Call for Performance at WSD/Scenofest 2017

Scenofest was initially instigated at the Prague Quadrennial in 2003 to foreground activities for students and emerging artists, and it became an integral part of WSD in 2013. The WSD Scenofest 2017 will offer an inspirational combination of international and local thought. Leaders will be assembled to deliver a series of engaging and interactive activities comprising of master-classes, seminars, and performances exploring all aspects of performance and theatre design. The array of events will feature distinct programs designed specifically for professionals, emerging artists, and student attendees. The Scenofest also seeks to be representative of all of the OISTAT commissions.

Performance Theme

Following the concept developed for the WSD/Scenofest 2013, production programming will emphasize the approach of design as performance. We are offering you an opportunity to bring your performance to WSD2017, to be presented between 1 - 9 July, 2017 at Taipei National University of the Arts in Taipei, Taiwan. There will be a range of venues available from conventional theatres and rehearsal studios to outdoor spaces.

Scenofest at WSD2017 is an amazing opportunity to share theatre, dance, and alternative performances from solo to ensemble casts, as well as to assemble a global and multicultural spectrum of presentations. We are particularly keen to receive expressions of interest from designers/ scenographers/ artists and theatre companies or groups who are taking the lead in making work and creating performances based on visual/objects as their starting point a project whether as solo artists or leaders of companies. The curators are seeking global participation and cross-cultural exchange to enhance the international spirit of this event.
